| Thursday 6/27/2024 | Reflections on Courage in Our Lives by Duane Roen I developed this workshop immediately after seeing a Theater of War production of Norwegian playwright Henrik Ibsen's 1882 play Enemy of the People. I had read the play decades earlier in high school, and it had made me reflect on the nature of courage. However, when I saw the production in February 2024, my emotional response was so strong that I spent the rest of the evening reading about the topic and drafting questions for discussion and writing. In this workshop we will reflect on our thoughts about courage and our experiences with courage. 1:30 pm - 3:00 pm Register by email: suzannebrownpt@gmail.com | Dobson BP 1S |

| Wednesday 7/3/2024 | Ambiguity Almost all words and sentences are ambiguous, if they are not seen or heard in the larger context. However, the larger context (both linguistic and non-linguistic) resolves almost all of the ambiguities--except when the speaker is intentionally trying to be ambiguous, as with linguists and politicians. Jacob Mey goes on to say that in real life, there is no such thing as ambiguity excepting in certain, rather special occasions, in which one tries to deceive one's partner, or keep the door open to more than one interpretation. This happens when we are trying to figure out a social situation. It also happens when we are teasing or seducing someone. 9:00 am - 10:30 am Register by email: suzannebrownpt@gmail.com Online Link: https://us02web.zoom.us/j/83565672342?pwd=NDRWZHVuL3VjUTdxWTE4L3FZOE16dz09 Meeting ID: 835 6567 2342 Passcode: 834322 | Online |
